A VIRGINIA WHAT-IS-IT

[From the Boston Journal.]

The old Virginia gentleman of the first families are used to be well known. He always shone like the stars in the water. By means of the bright originals in Dickens and was often a curious original himself. We thought that the war had bleached him out pretty badly, even if it had not banished him entirely from the public stage. But when we saw Governor Kemper's grand eloquent address of welcome to the Richmond Masons, returned from Bunker Hill, we recognized the ancient image at once. Kemper, however, indulged only in a mere rhetorical splurge. He extolled the Virginians to the seventh heaven; but he was not abusive of the rest of creation. But another Virginia orator is not to let us off with the harmless display of State vanity — for which we all have something and ought to have — he pours out the vials of his wrath on the Yankees and all his descendants and institutions. We refer to John S. Preston — we believe his name is so; may it be from whose oration before the Alumni of the University of Virginia. We have already made one or two brief extracts. The whole address considering the circumstances under which it was delivered seems to have too much significance to allow it to be passed over without comment.

Thus is the Commencement season at the North and East think that all the utterances at these gatherings, whether by graduates or orators, must necessarily be pieces may be carefully drawn for a single expression of the South or calculated to curry favor in our future politics. On the contrary the expressions of good will and fellowship have been as warm as they have been frequent. And yet this Mr. Preston talks of the people of New England in good taste of the most enlightened freedom as would hardly allow one of their orators to speak of the people of Fiji. He says our fathers were a race of exiles from England to violate root and branch her fundamental laws and that they came over the Mayflower as an experiment, and to be in the just penalties of a failure. Such and such notions rebellion. Pray be brought, of course, according to this raving Virginian a terrible exposure of crude and shallow system mingled with the poison of insolence, fatal in the fruit of heresy and crime. These accusations therefore with the whole of which contemporary with the political school of Washington. Jefferson — became and must continue, the proper text of a merely individual personal and bitterness. And these accusations of the unworthy sons of the glorious South are mainly by the Union victories of the last war we will put from national system the majestic truths of civil and religious liberty and set upon their ruins the mercenary factions of fanaticism directly from the hand of nature and responsible to the will of God.

In such hot words as these we spare our readers any further reflections from this excited region. Indeed as for Mr. Gordon himself we have no regard whatever. Foolish silly people are not ordinarily a particular section and they will have their say. But this spoiled and respectable position. He spoke as Virginia would to a certain degree as the chosen spokesman of one of the oldest colleges in the country and if he did injustice to the sentiments of the Alumni as both on matters which are attracting national attention at the time. It is natural that there should be some word of protest on the part of his hearers. We have never heard of nothing of the kind from the Alumni of the University of Virginia. They but need to the conventional tirade of which we have given but the mildest specimens and the vindictive and inflammatory spirit with which alone which apparently gave it vent. In referring therefore to Mr. Preston as a What-is-it we only mean to look at the problem which is suggested by such Southern utterances as his at the present time. How large a fraction of the Southern people do they represent? Are they approved and encouraged or only tolerated and excused? On the answers to such questions depends much of our political future.

Our Augusta correspondent elsewhere characterizes the carrying out of a scheme who city an efficient and valuable officer has been displaced from the Secretary of State's office at Augusta, to make room for a non-resident brought home for the purpose. There is obviously an ulterior object in view in this arrangement, but its manipulators will find that they cannot pull wires in so bold a manner without eliciting a rebuke. They may rely on it that their little game is not yet successfully played out.

A lawsuit of a singular sort is now in the courts of England. The daughter of a Wesleyan minister was buried in a parish churchyard, recently, in the diocese of Lincoln. The father caused a modest headstone to be prepared, inscribed, "To the memory of Mary, beloved daughter of Rev Mr. ——, Wesleyan minister," but the parish priest of the Established church ordered the placing of the stone in the churchyard unless the "Rev" was first removed, affirming that no dissenting minister has any right to use that title. An appeal from this order to the Queen in Council is now pending.

During the past [illegible] has been fully observed the [illegible] from its use of [illegible] It is now [illegible] It is now fully established that it is the best [illegible] It is now lastly established by all classes of [illegible] that VEGETINE holding a higher position in the estimation of the public than any other medical compound, and it has won its great reputation and immense sale by its own merits.

The medical properties are Alterative, Tonic, Solvent and Diuretic. There is no disease of the human system for which the VEGETINE cannot be a speedy, safe, and reliable remedy, as it does not contain any mercurial or poisonous compound. It is composed entirely of roots, herbs and barks. It is very pleasant to take, every child likes it. It is safe and reliable, as the following evidence will show

Valuable Evidence.

The following unsolicited testimonial from Rev G. T. Walker, D. D., formerly pastor of Bowdoin Square Church, Boston, and at present resident in Providence, R. I., must be deemed as reliable evidence. None should fail to observe that this testimonial is the result of two years' experience with the use of VEGETINE in the Rev. Mr. Walker's family, who now pronounce it invaluable

PROVIDENCE, R. I., 104 TRANSIT STREET

MR. H. R. STEVENS, Esq

Dear Sir—I feel bound, to express with my signature the high value I place upon your VEGETINE. My family have used it for the last two years. In my own case, while I do not consider that I have used it to all who may need an invigorating, renovating tonic.

Yours truly,

G. T. WALKER,

Formerly Pastor of Bowdoin Square Church, Boston

The Best Evidence.

The following letter from Rev. E. S. Best, pastor of the M. E. Church, Natick Mass., will be read with interest by many physicians, also those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the son of the Rev. E. S. Best. No person can doubt this testimony, and there is no doubt about the curative power of VEGETINE.

NATICK, Mass., Jan 1, 1875.

MR. H. R. STEVENS

Dear Sir—We have good reasons for regarding your VEGETINE as a medicine of the greatest value. We feel under obligations to have been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age, for the last two years he has suffered from that curse of the present day, called by scrofulous affection and was so far reduced that nearly all who saw him thought his recovery impossible. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of life ever rallying. two of the number speaking that he was beyond the reach of human remedies, that even stimulants would not save him, as he had not vigor enough to endure the operation. Just then we commenced giving him VEGETINE and from that time on the present he has been constantly improving. He has lately resumed studies, thrown away his crutches and cane, and is to all outward appearance perfectly and strongly well.

Though there is still some discharge from the wounding where his limb was lanced, we have the fullest confidence that in a little time he will be entirely cured.

He has taken about three dozen bottles of VEGETINE, but it has caused no bill to be doctored. Responsibly yours,

E. S. BEST,

MRS. L. P. BEST

Reliable Evidence

MR. H. R. STEVENS

Dear Sir—I will most cheerfully add my testimony to the great number you have already received in favor of your great and good medicine VEGETINE for I do not think enough can be said in its praise, for I was troubled over thirty years with that dreadful disease, Catarrh, and had such bad coughing spells that it would seem as though I could not breathe any more. I was induced to procure one bottle of VEGETINE, and I am so thankful to say that it has cured me, and I do feel thankful to God all the time that there is so good a medicine as VEGETINE, and I say to think it one of the best medicines for colds and weak sinking feeling as the stomach, and advise every body to take the VEGETINE, for I can assure them it is one of the best medicines I ever was

The Rochester Slaughter—The Coroner's Inquest

NEW YORK, July 9 At the inquest upon the victims of the late casualty at Rochester ten witnesses were examined yesterday afternoon There was some variance in the testimony of the witnesses as to the starting of the train, but all agreed that everything was done to avoid a collision The engineer of Hibbard's train admitted that he was ten minutes late after making time allowance, but contended that the train had the right of way for sufficient time to make a siding. Officials of the other train admitted that they knew Hibbard's train was late but started under the impression that it would be on the siding at Wandsburg. One of the witnesses, however, stated he did not believe the engineer could be on time with such a heavy number of cars. The inquest was adjourned until Tuesday next

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Times on Lord Dufferin's Speech

LONDON, July 9 The Times in its article on Lord Dufferin's speech says Canada has been advancing rapidly but not as fast or with so free a trend as the United states If any Canadians formerly felt a parking sickness for the Republic they became loyal when they saw the enormous load of debt and taxes left by the civil war. The Canadians might however have sought much union ere this in some fit of petulence at the mother country had felt them any grievance, but on the whole they scarcely felt the necessity of the Imperial Government Canadian loyalty had been admirable, but we may yet have to call for larger proofs of patriotism if we intend to knit the colonies into a firmer union with the mother country, so as to make them a source of strength instead of weakness in times of war

The Moody Revival Meetings.

The hall in which Moody is holding meetings, in Chamberwell, was crowded last night before the services by crowds which broke through the outside gates and created a panic inside the hall, which was only stilled by music The congregation remained standing, while the incoming crowd were quieted by a statement that the meeting would not be held unless they retired

The American Rifle Team at Belfast.

BELFAST, May 9 The American Rifle Team, accompanied by the Mayor of Belfast, spent the day in visiting the principal manufactories. They were enthusiastically cheered by the operatives. At lunch the Mayor proposed the health of the Team, remarking that friendly contests such as those at Dub in and Belfast tended to increase the friendship between the two nations, and should be encouraged. Colonel Gildersleeve, replying to the toast, returned thanks, and reiterated the expression of gratitude of the Team for the generality they have received from the Irish land. Nowhere, he said, was it more marked than in Belfast, whose industrial activity struck the American Team and other visitors most favorably.

A Fatal Duel Fought

A fatal duel was fought on Tuesday between Robert Thompson, a prominent merchant, and Allingham, every shot was exchanged at the close of the first, the latter fell mortally wounded. Colonel Gildersleeve [illegible] cup won by him at Clonbehore The Mayor said that the citizens of Belfast were glad that the cup was going to America. Colonel Gildersleeve returned thanks, and declared that he should ever consider the cup his most important trophy. After further speeches and toasts the company rose, and the visitors proceeded to the pier to take steamer for Glasgow, cheered by the Mayor and a delegation of citizens. Thousands of people lined the piers and docks to see them off, and there was loud and hearty cheering as the vessel steamed out. The party will visit the Scotch lakes to-morrow, and expect to arrive in Edinburg in the evening.

THE CREED OF THE FUTURE.

I don't believe in either God or Man
Or in your Autocrats, or ranting rant,
Who to your glorious and tyrannic chance,
All to servility and grovelling cry
Of credence,—Forward,—onward! And if you ask
If on these terms full life's daily task
Be perceived? And what comforts—look at me
My rags respectable you'll scarcely see
Or hap by-name, friend, citizen, professor,
Be took in public judgement, my successor."

I say dear sir—but no need wait, I doubt
To tell you how your grandchildren treat you,
For in the doctorate, seated upon the dais,
Of social intellect and war Mar.
Of this experiment he finds "crass
Despite short months, by my logic proven betrayed
Of the true, the would Truth nothing but the Truth—
That that stones and Mechanic force
Are upon the lowest plane rejoicing on their
So great

FARM HORSES

From what has been already written on this subject it is very evident that it requires more than ordinary experience to decide upon a suitable male for breeding purposes. Such a horse should not only be free from all blemish, but vice but should also be possessed of the qualities known to be most likely to produce a race for horses suitable for agricultural purposes. The breeder should select a horse large and powerful, and yet combine standing perhaps nearly sixteen hands high, and at comparatively short in his legs so as to deserve a bystander with a gait to his height. There is no point more desirable in that the horse should appear smaller than in reality, as it is a sure proof that the animal is superior. It is found that the qualities we take in a horse are found that the qualities in time hand-some in that and the observations will be most useful which is put out the details of this kind we must notice that a large mare should be used for breeding purposes with a large horse, but I have a mare of the best description, and I hope to see a very fine foal from her by the first horse in the neighborhood. I have also a mare of the best description, and I hope to see a very fine foal from her by the first horse in the neighborhood. BLATCHLEY'S

Improved CLAMBER WOOD LOOM is the most perfect STANDARD of the kind, by popular verdict, the best loom in the United States. Attention is invited to the many important improvements which have been made in this loom, and which place it far in advance of all others. It is the only loom that has the Patent Stop Motion, which will stop the loom instantly when the thread breaks, and will not start until the thread is tied. It is the only loom that has the Patent Shuttle Motion, which will stop the loom instantly when the shuttle is thrown out of the box.
